Request for Telephone Toll Records Check

Prior investigation reflects that the business operation of Multiple Sports News Service (MSNS) is being conducted at the residence of SAMUEL GREEN, 1865 NE 207th Street, Dade County, Florida. Phones utilized by GREEN at this address are 947-6439 and 945-0272.

Investigation to date reflects that MSNS is one of the major disseminators of "line" information and related data which assists interstate gambling and bookmaking figures. This operation is run by FRANK "Lefty" ROSENTHAL under the guise of a sports consultant. The alleged president is SAMUEL GREEN. Both individuals were arrested by Miami Agents on November 28, 1965, for violations of ITWI and ITAR statutes. Both individuals were again arrested during the latter part of May, 1966, for violations originating from Los Angeles, California, in connection with the activities of [redacted] b6 b7C

In investigating such a business operation, it is imperative that all interstate contacts be fully developed in view of the potential Federal violations that would exist in the exchange of information from Miami to other states. The use of telephones by this operation is of primary value although there is no correspondence through the mails.

Full security is assured in obtaining long distance toll calls for above mentioned numbers inasmuch as a very close working relationship has always existed between the FBI Office and Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co., Miami.

Approximate dates of the draft meetings: Summer (June), Fall (Sept.), primarily for selection of recently eligible American Legion players and Winter (Jan.).

If a club fails to sign a drafted free agent, its exclusive right to negotiation will expire on a specified date (see below). . . . Such a player then becomes eligible to be selected at a special draft by another club.

Date Selected	Rights Expire

NEW YORK — Horse player live for the moment they can cash a winning ticket.

And certain government officials, particularly in New York City, live for the moment they can grab a piece of the action with legal off-track betting.

Come November, voters in New York State will get a crack at another gimmick — for or against a legal lottery like the one and only now running in New Hampshire.

The great American pastime of shelling out millions of dollars for sports events other than racing also intrigues hard-pressed tax people.

After New York City's latest his honor, Mayor Lindsay, took office early this year a "friendly" delegation went out to consult with officials of the New York Mets with an eye to renegotiating the Met contract on the city's Shea Stadium.

After all, the Metsies turned out to be a fabulous box-office draw far beyond anyone's dreams, didn't they?

The Mets responded with a courteous negative but they have to be wondering about the future. And baseball fans in the big town have to be wondering, too. Only eight years ago, they lost two ball clubs — The Giants and the Dodgers.

The horse player, however, seems to be the biggest hope for replenishing the tax coffers.

Both off-track bets and lottery proposals have been kicking around for years. The lottery recently got a go-ahead from the State Legislature and now it's up to the voters. Off-track bets apparently have a long way to go.

The horse player, the numbers game players and the potential lottery ticket buyers become fair game.

But taxes have been a favorite subject around the big town for quite a spell what with a state income tax, a state sales tax, a New York City sales tax and a threatened New York City income tax on top of Uncle Sam's regular bite on the paycheck.

The state lottery, in which all proceeds would be earmarked for education, supposed would yield $400 million per year.

Off-track bets in bookie joints run either by the state or city hopefully would match that figure.

Governor Rockefeller has indicated a great deal of thought should be paid to the minority side of an off-track betting survey that insists the profits wouldn't be as great as claimed nor would crime be reduced much by government-controlled handbooks.

But the other day, controversial public official Robert Moses came up with a suggestion the legal bookies could make enough loot to keep the New York City subway fare at 15 cents and somehow or other "subway fares" are magic words around this town. Moses is the fellow who put on New York's recent world's fair, considered by many an artistic success and by all as a financial disaster.

Meanwhile, the horse track people remain quiet about a lottery but scream bloody murder at the prospects of off-track bookies.

"It would steal half of our business," they agreed in a report issued during one of former New York Mayor Robert Wagner's various attempts to get through an off-track bill.

The way things are going, they many find out one of these years just how much they will lose.

People pushing for off-track bets can't see any moral difference between betting at a horse park and betting in a bookie joint — as long as it's a legal establishment.

The only American League pitcher to hurl a no-hitter last season was Boston's Dave Morehead, who accomplished the feat in a 2-0 victory over Cleveland on September 16. There were no American League no-hitters in 1963 or 1964.

Sandy Koufax Tops in Baseball

AWARDS . . . First pitcher to repeat as Cy Young Award winner (1963-'65), Sandy also was declared top professional athlete (Hickock Diamond Belt Award) for second time, won the Sports Illustrated "Sportsman of the Year" honor and was named Player of the Year by Sporting News and Male Athlete of the Year by Associated Press.

MAJOR LEAGUE LEADER . . . Led both leagues in ERA (2.04), strikeouts (382), victories (26), innings pitched (336), complete games (27) and W.L. (26-8-.765).

STRIKEOUTS . . . His 382 all-time tops for a season. Increased his own N.L. record to five straight years with 200-or-more strikeouts (starting with 1961: 269, 216, 306, 223, 382—1,396 in 1,310 innings). His career total: 2,079 in 2,033 innings. He has fanned 10-or-more batters in 82 games. He is only pitcher who has ever fanned 18 batters in TWO different games. (Only one other pitcher, Bob Feller, ever fanned 18 in a 9-inning game.)

COMPLETE GAMES . . . 27 complete games was most by a Dodger pitcher since Burleigh Grimes and Dazzy Vance hurled 30, each, in 1924. No southpaw in N.L. has pitched more complete games since Wilbur Cooper, of Pirates, in 1921. Also most complete games in N.L. since Robin Roberts' 29 in 1954.

VICTORIES . . . Victory total of 26 tied N.L. record for southpaw, matching two Giants' pitchers, Rube Marquard (26-11 in 1912) and Carl Hubbell (26-6 in 1936).

ERA AND W-L LEADER . . . Sandy's 2.04 ERA and .765 (26 and 8) percentage record made him first pitcher in N.L. history to win both of these titles two successive seasons. Sandy has been the circuit's ERA leader four straight years — a National League record.

NO-HITTERS . . . Became first pitcher to hurl FOUR no-hitters. Has done it annually since 1962. To add to this year's accomplishments, Sandy made it a perfecto Sept. 9 against Chicago Cubs.

WORLD SERIES . . . Won fifth and seventh game in World Series, hurling 2-to-0 shutout in finale. His four October classic triumphs ties lifetime record of Johnny Podres for all-time Dodger high.

AND THEN THERE WERE TWO

As the Mets began spring training the 1966 roster listed only two of the 22 players selected in the original expansion draft of October 10, 1961—Chris Cannizzaro and Jim Hickman.

The 22 original Mets:

$125,000

Pitchers—Jay Hook (Cincinnati) and Bob L. Miller (St. Louis); Infielder—Don Zimmer (Chicago); Outfielder—Lee Walls (Philadelphia).

$75,000

Pitchers—Craig Anderson (St. Louis), Roger Craig (Los Angeles), Ray Daviault (San Francisco) and Al Jackson (Pittsburgh); Catchers—Chris Cannizzaro (St. Louis), Clarence Coleman (Philadelphia) and Hobie Landrith (San Francisco); Infielders—Ed Bouchee (Chicago), Elio Chacon (Cincinnati), Sammy Drake (Chicago), Gil Hodges (Los Angeles) and Felix Mantilla (Milwaukee); Outfielders—Gus Bell (Cincinnati), Joe Christopher (Pittsburgh), John DeMerit (Milwaukee) and Bobby Gene Smith (Philadelphia).

$50,000

Pitcher—Sherman Jones (Cincinnati); Outfielder—Jim Hickman (St. Louis).

DID YOU KNOW THAT? . . . Fred Whitfield last season hit 26 home runs, and 10 of those came off New York Yankee pitching.

DID YOU KNOW THAT? . . . Rocky Colavito set an American League fielding record last season when he played in 162 games and was not charged with a single error. The man who held the record was Walter "Hoot" Evers, now an Indians' vice president and director of player personnel.

DID YOU KNOW THAT? . . . Sam McDowell of the Indians became the fifth pitcher since 1900 to strikeout more than 300 batters in a single season. He was also the youngest pitcher in baseball history to perform the feat. The others who struck out more than 300 batters were Rube Waddell, Walter Johnson, Bob Feller and Sandy Koufax.

CLOSE, BUT NO CIGAR

The closest a Met pitcher has come to a no-hitter is the 7-1/3 innings of hitless ball Al Jackson hurled in Pittsburgh, July 21, 1965 The streak was broken when Willie Stargell singled. Jackson had to settle for a two-hit, 1-0 victory.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

b7C

On July 15, 1966, [redacted] Secretary to the President, Morton Towers Apartments, 1500 Bay Road, Miami Beach, Florida, advised that Multiple Sports News Service continues to rent on a monthly basis, Suite 112, in the Morton Building, 1090 N.E. 79th Street, Miami, Florida.

BUSINESS ADDRESS

Multiple Sports News Service continues to operate on a day-to-day basis from the residence of SAMUEL GREEN, 1865 N.E. 207th Terrace, Miami. Business is conducted from telephone number WI 7-6439.

PUBLICATIONS

Multiple Sports News Service continues to publish on a weekly basis the "Weekly Sports Journal" which contains the American and National League baseball schedules. Five hundred copies of this Journal are currently being published on a weekly basis.

Weekly Sports Journal Number 16 contained an advertisement for the "Football Journal" to be published by Multiple Sports News Service in thirteen issues. This would include the exhibition and bowl game journal in addition to eleven regular season publications.

Investigation regarding the similarity of format in publications published by JKs Sports Journal and Multiple Sports News Service, reflected that the latter publication was using UPI sports releases without giving proper acknowledgment. It is noted that the former service does subscribe to the facilities of a UPI sports ticker.

On June 10, 1966, Departmental Attorney [redacted] Miami, telephonically contacted [redacted] Assistant Southern Division Manager, United Press International (UPI), Atlanta, Georgia regarding the above matter.

[redacted] indicated that any violation which might exist would probably be against JKs Sports Journal, although the matter would be fully discussed with the UPI legal staff in New York City, New York.

Representatives of the Pacific Telephone Company advised that telephone companies throughout the United States have been aware of the wide usage of a multi-frequency signal generator called a "blue box" which circumvents billing procedures as well as detection of long-distance telephone calls. These representatives advised that their company's Legal Department has stated that the company has a right to monitor subscribers' telephone lines to determine the existance of any fraud against the company; further, according to the Legal Department, the company has a responsibility to disseminate to the appropriate investigative agency any violation of federal law which might be evidenced through such monitoring.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company officials advised that the "blue box" are and have been used in the greater Los Angeles area.

They advised that indications of use of the "blue box" arises from an unusual number of calls to an area code universal information operator. This is reflected from an accounting record known as a 555-1212 print.

Assistant United States Attorney [redacted] advised that in his opinion, use of the "blue box" for interstate calls was a violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1343, and if determined that betting and wagering information was transmitted by one engaged in that business, it would then also be a violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1084.

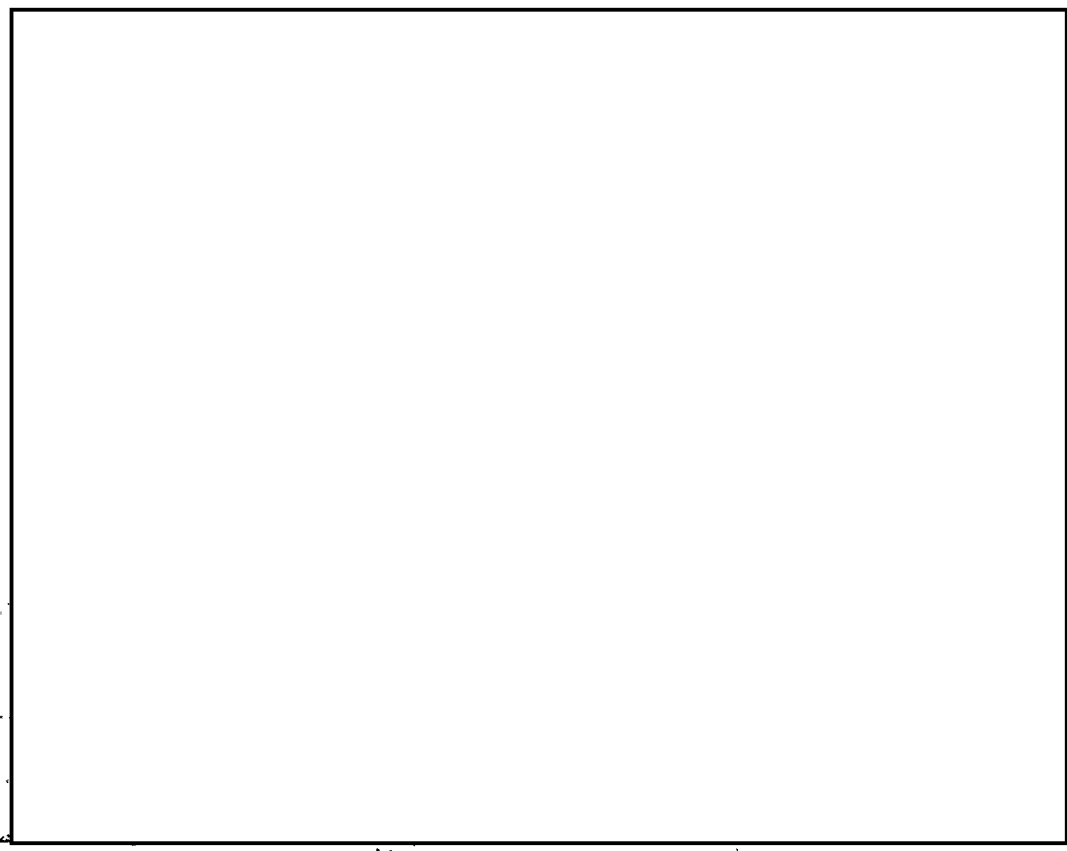

[redacted] Chief Special Agent, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, advised the 555-1212 prints for March, 1966, had revealed excessive calls to long distance operators for longer than normal periods to both the residence and business telephones of [redacted] He further advised that through automatic monitoring equipment it had been verified that a "blue box" had been used at [redacted] residence, [redacted] Reseda, California, and at his business, [redacted] Los Angeles. b6 b7C

On May 26, 1966, the following article captioned: "16 Suspects Nabbed in Phone Fix", appeared in the "Miami Herald", Miami, Florida:

"FBI Agents arrested 16 men in nine states Wednesday on charges of using the electronic "blue box" to avoid paying for long distance telephone calls.

"GIL (The Brain) BECKLEY, reputedly one of the nation's more cerebral bookmakers, discovered federal agents at his door in New York City.

"BECKLEY, 53, a sort of thinking man's gambler, usually lives in apartment 7B west, Blair House, 9100 Bay Harbour Drive, Bay Harbor Islands. He is out of jail now on $20,000 bond, awaiting another federal gambling charge.

"NICHOLAS KATZENBACH, the Attorney General and FBI Director J. EDGAR HOOVER, announced the nationwide crackdown on interstate telephone transmission of gambling information from Washington.

"In a press release, theDepartment of Justice described the arrests as a "crippling blow".

"Two other Miami men, FRANK (LEFTY) ROSENTHAL, and SAM SOLOMON GREEN, made the list, too.

"Last year, FBI Agents had the telephones yanked out of ROSENTHAL's so-called Multiple Sports News Service at 1090 N.W. 79th Street. On paper, gREEN, a 52, an ex-cabbie made good, is the president of the firm. But with the phone out, he moved.

"He moved from a small one-room dwelling into a $28,000 pool and patio home at 1865 N.E. 207th Street. That's where FBI agents arrested him in raids synchronized around the country at 9 a.m. Miami time Wednesday.

"ROSENTHAL wasn't at home, eithere there or at his apartment at 2123 N.E. 122nd Street, North Miami.

"His attorney, DAVID ROSEN, said he would surrender

"for a hearing at 2:30 p.m. today before U.S. Commissioner EDWARD SWAN.

"ROSEN represented GREEN before the commissioner Wednesday. GREEN wore a pink shirt for the occasion, folded his arms, and said nothing. He was freed on $5,000 bond pending a hearing June 8.

"In Washington, HOOVER said the arrests stemmed from 'an extensive and detailed investigation by FBY agents throughout the U.S.'

"Gamblers, he indicated, use a 'multifrequency signal generator', or so called 'blue box' to beat the telephone company on bills while phoning gambling tips, odds, and results.

"The charge under which BECKLEY was arrested has a maximum sentence of two years imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

"Arrests also occurred in Maryland, Georgia, Tennessee, North Carolina, California and New Jersey:"

By letter dated June 8, 1966, Departmental Attorney [redacted] Miami, advised United States Commissioner EDWARD P. SWAN, Miami, that the Department of Justice is declining prosecution in case styled "USA versus FRANK L. ROSENTHAL, aka NORMAN LOUIS ROSENTHAL and SAMUEL S. GREEN. [redacted] respectfully requested that the complaint filed by SA [redacted] on November 27, 1965 be dismissed. b6 b7C

On June 21, 1966, the following article appeared in the "Miami Herald", Miami, Florida:

"The government has 'declined prosecution' of

"FRANK (LEFTY) ROSENTHAL on gambling charges stemming from a 1965 FBI raid, U.S. Attorney WILLIAM A. MEADOWS confirmed Monday.

"MEADOWS and WALLACE JOHNSON, Florida director of the Justice Department's organized crime division, have dismissed the charges against ROSENTHAL.

"In November, 1965, ROSENTHAL and four other men were arrested in a series of FBI raids deemed so important a blow to South Florida gambling that the arrests were announced by J. EDGAR HOOVER at Washington.

"ROSENTHAL was charged with interstate transmission of betting information through his Multiple Sports News Service, 1090 N.E. 79th Street.

"He was given a preliminary hearing on the charges in December before U.S. Commissioner EDWARD P. SWAN. SWAN ordered him bound over for federal grand jury action.

"Arrested in the same raid was SAM GREEN, 52 of 7851 N.E. 10th Court, who is president of the sports service. The government order of dismissal also covers the charges against GREEN.

"Both ROSENTHAL and GREEN were arrested again by the FBI in May on similar interstate gambling charges, which stem from a complaint filed at Los Angeles.

"A hearing on these charges has been set for Monday at 2:30 p.m. before U.S. Commissioner EDWARD P. SWAN.

"JOHNSON said Monday he had 'no comment' on the dismissal of the November charges against ROSENTHAL. JOHNSON sent the letter, over MEADOW's signature, which dismissed the charges because the Justice Department had 'declined prosecution' of the case.

"MEADOWS said the decision was made because the local case and the one in California are similar in nature, overlapping in some instances, and it was 'better to defer prosecution in favor of California'.

"He went on to say that from some standpoints of evidence the California case was a stronger one than the Miami charge. Asked why ROSENTHAL would not be prosecuted on both cases, MEADOWS replied:

'I can't comment on that. We would be getting into the evidence. We all agreed we should dismiss the case'.

"He said the decision was made without conferences with ROSENTHAL's attorney E. DAVID ROSEN. He said ROSEN and his client have been informed of the decision.

"ROSENTHAL, 36 of 2123 N.E. 122nd Street and GREEN will be represented at Monday's hearing on the California charges by ROSEN.

"The preliminary hearing has been postponed a number of time because the government hoped to get an indictment from California which would cancel the hearing.

"So far, an indictment has not been handed down."

On June 22, 1966, the following article appeared in the editorial page of the "Miami Herald", Miami, Florida:

"Seven months ago, the FBI arrested FRANK (LEFTY) ROSENTHAL and four other men in a gambling raid of such heft that it was announced by no less a figure than J. EDGAR HOOVER in Washington.

"The act was reassuring. At least the racket had the eye of the federal government.

"Lamentably, the eye cannot seem to focus. The Justice Department has 'declined prosecution' in Florida of the ROSENTHAL case. It is still struggling to get an indictment of the same man in California, where it believes it has a stronger case. At the moment, then, ROSENTHAL is not really under indictment anywhere.

"Is it customary not to prosecute wrong-doing wherever and everywhere it occurs?

"In Florida, in any case, another big one is off the hook. In truth, one has never really been caught."

Lefty Goes To Hospital --Not Jail

By C. G. BERNING
Herald Staff Writer

Gambler Frank "Lefty" Rosenthal checked into a Mt. Sinai Hospital room Friday because he couldn't stomach a stretch in Dade County Jail.

He entered the hospital just as he was supposed to start serving 10-days behind bars on an old traffic court conviction.

Jail officials admitted they couldn't take care of an ulcer of the type which sent Rosenthal to a hospital bed.

"In view of the volume of our cooking and high jail population," said Sheriff's Lt. Harry Marcus, "It would be impossible to prepare special meals for one prisoner."

Rosenthal's lawyers went before Metro Judge Fred Barad Friday to explain why their client shouldn't spend 10 days in jail.

Rosenthal, they said, needs plenty of sweet milk each day plus a handful of pills for his ailing stomach.

And the overcrowded conditions at the county jail, they added, would force their client to sleep on the floor and "be deprived of decent facilities."

Barad declined to take any action until he could check out Rosenthal's condition and see if he is strong enough to spend 10 days behind bars.

Rosenthal has avoided jail over a checkered gambling career that included fixing a North Carolina basketball game. That mistake cost him a $6,000 fine but no loss of time.

His recent trouble started last year at Miami International Airport with an arrest for driving with a suspended license. When he failed to keep a court date the judge forfeited his $250 fine. Later, Rosenthal was sentenced to 10 days plus a $100 fine.

His lawyers Friday told Barad that to make Rosenthal go to jail now on top of his financial setbacks would be "cruel and inhuman punishment."

Information concerning this bookmaking operation was turned over to the Attorney General's Office, State of Florida, Miami, and thereafter, on July 7, 1966, a search warrant was executed for the above address.

[redacted] was arrested at this time for bookmaking, although [redacted] was successful in making his get-a-way before local officers could apprehend him.

On July 8, 1966, the following article appeared in the "Miami Herald", Miami, Florida, regarding the above arrest:

Bookie Joint a Maze Of Wires, Police Say

By BUDDY DAVIS
Herald Staff Writer

Law enforcement officers said they smashed an $8,000-a-day bookmaking operation Thursday after spending three hours unraveling an electronic and legal maze.

They raided an apartment building at 601 NW 138th St. and said it was elaborately wired to permit simultaneous bookmaking in two apartments. It took over three hours to overcome legal technicalities and trace the entire operation.

Jim McCall, chief investigator in Miami for Attorney General Earl Faircloth, figured the law nabbed one person while another got away.

Booked in Dade County Jail was Izaak M. Silber of 735 NW 123rd St. He was charged with bookmaking and operating a gambling room. Silber once held a federal gambling stamp but it lapsed.

McCall said the raid, involving Metro and North Miami officers, resulted from close to three weeks of investigation, which pinpointed the operation in one apartment. The telephones were listed for that unit.

When officers arrived, Silber refused to answer the door. By the time officers broke in, McCall said, Silber had destroyed bet slips and rundown sheets in the bathroom.

They were on dissolvable paper, and when that stuff hits water, it's gone," said McCall.

Izaak M. Silber
. . . arrested

A phone rang once and officers "accepted" a bet. Then the entire phone system went dead.

Inspection revealed duplicate telephone wires had been drawn through the apartment walls. Another wire was traced through a window.

The adjacent apartment had its jalousies wide open. Officers were able to see where the wiring had been rigged to two telephones on a table. The lights were on, a fan was going full blast, and the television was blaring.

"Someone had gotten out of there awful fast," said McCall.

Since officers had a search warrant for only the first apartment, they had to secure another for the second unit. That's where most of the time went.

In the second apartment, they found rundown slips, racing forms, and telephone wires which had been yanked through the wall, disconnecting all telephones from the main connection.

"We figure the fellow heard the raid going on and jerked the connections and beat it," said McCall.

The telephone wires through the wall enabled parties in both apartments to use the phones. The wire drawn through the windows comprised a buzzer system for communication purposes. None of the wiring was a standard telephone installation.

[redacted] of the [redacted] News Stand, [redacted] Tampa, Florida, voluntarily furnished the following information after being advised that he need not make any statement; that any statement he did make could be used against him in a court of law; and of his right to consult an attorney or anyone else before making any statement:

[redacted] advised that he has had no personal contact with anyone connected with Multiple Sports News Service. He said that in about November, 1964, a short time after he opened the news stand, an unknown individual brought in a sheet of football schedules for that particular week and asked if he handled these schedules. [redacted] said that he advised this individual he did not. He went on to say that he subsequently wrote a letter to the Multiple Sports News Service in Miami, Florida requesting that these sheets be sent to him in order that he could put them on sale at his news stand, and thereafter he began to receive the sheets which contained only a weekly schedule of college and professional football games with no point-spread shown.

Continuing, [redacted] advised that he wrote to no special individual at the News Service, but just to Multiple Sports News Service in general. He advised he receives only about 50 schedules per week and only football schedules during the football season. He said that as far as he is concerned, these sheets are obtained as just another item to be sold at his news stand. He said he pays about 17 cents per copy and retails the sheets at 25 cents per copy to walk-in customers.

[redacted] advised that he has not and does not receive "line information" by mail or telephone from Multiple Sports News Service and has never talked to anyone there by telephone.

He want on to relate that he has received from the News Service, samples of basketball and baseball schedules, but since he has no calls or customers for these he has not and does not handle this type schedule.

He also advised that one of the local banks puts out a football schedule during the football season for their customers and also that the local newspapers, the Tampa Tribune and the Tampa Times, also publish football schedules showing a "point-spread".

Baseball's Hall of Fame

In 1939, on the 100th anniversary of the game's origin, Baseball's Hall of Fame was formally dedicated at the game's birthplace, Cooperstown, New York. Vol. 5 Games for week ending Sunday, August 28, 1966 No. 21

CHICAGO — The New York Yankees were the chief drawing card at Comiskey Park last season as 219,838 fans showed up for the nine dates against the Chicago White Sox.

SEATTLE, WASH. — Ruth Jessen won five professional golf tournaments in 1964. She failed to win a tourney in 1965, missing a good part of the Women's Pro Tour when doctors ordered her sidelined for a rest and medical tests.

NEW YORK — Tony Trabert's 1955 victory was the last triumph posted by an American in the U.S. Tennis Championships. Five Australians, a Mexican and a Spaniard have captured the titles since then.

LOS ANGELES — Jim Lefebvre, the Los Angeles second baseman who won the National League's Rookie of the Year Award in 1965, once served as Dodger batboy.

LOS ANGELES — Los Angeles Dodger pitching star Sandy Koufax is the only player to win the Cy Young Award twice.

NEW YORK — No National League batter hit more than two grand slam home runs in 1965, with Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell and Philadelphia's Dick Stuart sharing the individual lead with two apiece.

NEW YORK — Gil Hodges, who now manages the Washington Senators, holds the major league record for grand slam home runs — 14.

LOS ANGELES — The World Champion Los Angeles Dodgers hit only 78 home runs — lowest in the National League — in 1965.

ST. LOUIS — St. Louis Cardinal Pitcher Curt Simmons, in his 18th National League campaign, is enjoying the longest career among active players in the circuit.

UNLESS NEUTRAL FIELD IS SPECIFIED BOTTOM TEAM IS HOME TEAM
(N) INDICATES NIGHT GAME — STARTING TIMES SHOWN ARE Eastern Standard Time

Vol. 5 Games For Week Ending Sunday, September 18, 1966 No. 2

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. — Johnny Vaught, the man who introduced split-T football to the Deep South and who has led the University of Mississippi to six Southeastern Conference championships, continues to lead active collegiate football coaches in best winning percentage despite a recent charge by Missouri's Dan Devine.

Vaught, whose teams have slipped to 5-4-1 and 6-4 records the past two seasons, built up such an incredible record since coming to Ole Miss in 1947 that his 149-41-10 record for a .770 percentage is still the best among active coaches.

It marks the third year since Bud Wilkinson retired after an illustrious career at Oklahoma that Vaught has maintained the best record of any coach in the nation.

Vaught won the SEC title his first year at Mississippi when Carley Conerly and Barney Poole showed their grid talents to the nation, and since that time his teams have won five more conference titles and eight bowl games. His best years were from 1959-63 when the Rebels posted a 52-2-3 record.

Devine, however, has been taking advantage of Vaught's last two campaigns to move from out of the top 20 into the No. 2 spot. Since coming to Missouri from Arizona State where he posted a 27-3-1 mark for three seasons, Devine has built the Tigers into a Big Eight conference power. He boasts an overall record of 84-24-7 for a .761 percentage in 11 seasons as a coach.

Darrell Royal of Texas, second in the ratings a year ago, fell to fifth place after the Longhorns slumped to 6-4 last season and Alabama's Paul (Bear) Bryant has moved into the No. 3 position. Woody Hayes of Ohio State is fourth.

Besides Devine, there are two other coaches who have made the top 20 for the first time and oddly enough both are from the Ivy League. John Yovicsin of Harvard has moved into the 13th spot and John McLaughry of Brown is tied for the 20th position.

Bill Murray of Duke, Rip Engle of Penn State and Tom Nugent of Maryland, all of whom were in the top 20 last year, have retired. Murray's teams compiled a 144-68-12 record for 24 seasons, Engle was 132-68-8 for 22 seasons and Nugent was 89-80-3 for 17 years.

There are 15 current coaches who have won more than 100 games compared to only seven when the list was first devised in 1958, but only Royal and Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame have an outside chance of reaching the century mark this season. Royal has 92 victories and Parsegian, who is 12th on the percentage list, has 91.

Warren Woodson of New Mexico State has the most victories with 225 in 35 years of coaching while Jess Neely of Rice has 239 seasons. They are the only two coaches with more than 200 victories to their credit and no other coach is even close to the mark. Bryant ranks third with 160 and Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech has 156.

Vol. 5 Games for week ending Sunday, Sept. 11, 1966 No. 23

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. — Johnny Vaught, the man who introduced split-T football to the Deep South and who has led the University of Mississippi to six Southeastern Conference championships, continues to lead active collegiate football coaches in best winning percentage despite a recent charge by Missouri's Dan Devine.

Vaught, whose teams have slipped to 5-4-1 and 6-4 records the past two seasons, built up such an incredible record since coming to Ole Miss in 1947 that his 149-41-10 record for a .770 percentage is still the best among active coaches.

It marks the third year since Bud Wilkinson retired after an illustrious career at Oklahoma that Vaught has maintained the best record of any coach in the nation.

Vaught won the SEC title his first year at Mississippi when Carley Conerly and Barney Poole showed their grid talents to the nation, and since that time his teams have won five more conference titles and eight bowl games. His best years were from 1959-63 when the Rebels posted a 52-2-3 record.

Devine, however, has been taking advantage of Vaught's last two campaigns to move from out of the top 20 into the No. 2 spot. Since coming to Missouri from Arizona State where he posted a 27-3-1 mark for three seasons, Devine has built the Tigers into a Big Eight conference power. He boasts an overall record of 84-24-7 for a .761 percentage in 11 seasons as a coach.

Darrell Royal of Texas, second in the ratings a year ago, fell to fifth place after the Longhorns slumped to 6-4 last season and Alabama's Paul (Bear) Bryant has moved into the No. 3 position. Woody Hayes of Ohio State is fourth.

Besides Devine, there are two other coaches who have made the top 20 for the first time and oddly enough both are from the Ivy League. John Yovicsin of Harvard has moved into the 13th spot and John McLaughry of Brown is tied for the 20th position.

Bill Murray of Duke, Rip Engle of Penn State and Tom Nugent of Maryland, all of whom were in the top 20 last year, have retired. Murray's teams compiled a 144-68-12 record for 24 seasons, Engle was 132-68-8 for 22 seasons and Nugent was 89-80-3 for 17 years.

There are 15 current coaches who have won more than 100 games compared to only seven when the list was first devised in 1958, but only Royal and Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame have an outside chance of reaching the century mark this season. Royal has 92 victories and Parsegian, who is 12th on the percentage list, has 91.

Warren Woodson of New Mexico State has the most victories with 225 in 35 years of coaching while Jess Neely of Rice has 239 seasons. They are the only two coaches with more than 200 victories to their credit and no other coach is even close to the mark. Bryant ranks third with 160 and Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech has 156.

CHICAGO — The Chicago Bears' Annual Pro Football Exhibition Benefit Games for the Armed Forces has raised almost $9 million since 1946.

EAST LANSING, MICH. — The 1965 Michigan State football team led the nation in defense against scoring, allowing only 6.2 points per game.

ALL-AMERICAN CANDIDATES

NEW YORK — A long line of All-America football candidates is starting to form behind four holdovers from the 1965 honor team including ace quarterback Bob Griese of Purdue.

Griese, tackle Loyd Phillips of Arkansas, defensive end Charley Smith and defensive back George Webster of Michigan State made the United Press International first platoons a year ago and they're hot favorites to repeat.

Other top candidates include end Gene Washington and halfback Clint Jones of Michigan State, halfback Floyd Little of Syracuse and defensive back Frank Horak of Texas Christian, who made the UPI's second platoons.

But it's a long grind through November and favorites face a rugged fight from the other noted veterans of '65 campaigns — as well as plenty of people who haven't been heard from yet.

For instance, UCLA's Gary Beban came out of nowhere as a soph quarterback a year ago and came close to grabbing a second team slot by All-America time.

The quarterback list is strong, as usual, with Griese, Beban and Steve Spurrier of Florida the best bets in the pre-season go-around.

Others are Danny Talbott of North Carolina, Terry Southall of Baylor, Nelson Stokley of Louisiana State, Tim Van Galder of Iowa State, Virgil Carter of Brigham Young, Jon Brittenum of Arkansas, Vidal Carlin of North Texas State, Mickey Beard of Dartmouth, Bob Churchich of Nebraska, Stevens of Texas Western, Mike Brundage of Oregon and Paul Brothers of Oregon State.

Little, who has broken many of Jimmy Brown's Syracuse records, tops the ball-carriers. Among the lads to watch for are Harry Jones of Arkansas, Lenny Snow of Georgia Tech, Mel Farr of UCLA, Nick Eddy and Larry Conjar of Notre Dame, Brendan McCarthy of Boston College, Charley Brown of Missouri, Peter Pifer of Oregon State, Les Kelly of Alabama and Jerry Joseph of Louisiana State.

RALEIGH, N.C. — Earle Edwards, head football coach at North Carolina State, began a career as an industrial engineer before turning to the coaching ranks.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — Purdue's head football coach, Jack Mollenkopf, has a 53-31-9 record in 10 seasons at the Boilermaker helm. He is 8-1-1 over neighboring Indiana in Big Ten play.

CLEMSON, S.C. — Clemson hung up its first undefeated football season in 1900. The victory string included a 64-0 shutout of Davidson; a 51-0 whitewash over South Carolina and a 35-0 pasting of Alabama.

DURHAM, N.C. — The largest crowd to attend a Duke home football game was the 57,500 for the North Carolina contest in 1949.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — Penn State has gone through 27 consecutive football seasons without a losing record. A 5-5 season in 1965 was the closest year to a non-winning season during that skein.

NORMAN, Okla. — Jim Grisham set a modern University of Oklahoma rushing record when he picked up 218 yards against Oklahoma State in 1963.

NEW YORK — Emlen Tunnell, now an assistant defensive coach with the New York Giants, holds National Football League career records for most interceptions (79), most yards gained on interceptions (1,282), and most punt returns (258).

NEW YORK — Center Mel Hein played 15 years with the New York Giants football team from 1931-1945 to set a club record for longest service.

SAN FRANCISCO — Tommy Davis of the San Francisco 49ers holds the National Football League record for consecutive successful points after touchdowns by kicking 234 in a row from 1959 through 1965.

LOS ANELES — Tom Fears of the Los Angeles Rams caught a National Football League record 18 passes for 189 yards against Green Bay in 1950.

NUMBERS TO RIGHT OF TEAM INDICATE LAST YEAR'S SCORE

Vol. 5 — Games for Week Ending Sunday, October 9, 1966 — No. 5

NEW YORK (UPI) — College football will look about the same as last year to the man in the grandstand.

The experts insist it'll be several shades better as pro-style platoon football gains a firmer foothold but that's a fine point difficult to detect even from a 50-yard line seat.

For the first time in quite a spell, however, the rulesmakers stopped tinkering with the playing code. Except for minor changes, it's the same game as in 1965 that pulled more than 24 million spectators into college arenas.

A year ago, the latest in a long line of substitution rules revised legal platooning of offensive and defensive teams. Many squads had to rely on a certain number of high grade two-way players in emergencies but that's rapidly disappearing this fall.

Specialists are the rule almost everywhere.

The "I" formation has caught on around the nation with variations called the "Power I" and even "Crooked I" but no matter how you slice 'em they all stem from the original "T" with the quarterback under center.

The only place you can find a single-winger is at Princeton, which never dropped it, and at East Carolina, which went to it when Clarence Stasavich came in as head coach.

For the younger set that never saw a single-wing in action, this is a power-type offense in which the center fires the ball backward direct to the ball carrier as on a punt. The quarterback in this system strictly is a signal-caller and blocker who rarely gets his hands on a ball unless he's a pass receiver.

The minor rules changes will have little effect on how the game looks.

One sets up pylon markers instead of flags to mark the out-of-bounds line in the end zones. Flags in a high wind sometimes proved mis-leading on close plays in the corners.

"Offensive linemen from tackle to tackle must wear numbers from 50 to 79," noted Les Meringer, an official in the Eastern College Athletic Conference which rules the entire area.

"That's to make it easier for officials to spot an ineligible pass receiver. But remember, there still are tackle eligible plays. Fans as well as officials have to look out for those."

Some coaches last year were getting the clock stopped by having their quarterbacks throw a pass out of bounds and occasionally those were backward passes, not forwards. This year, backward heaves out of bounds will cost a down and five yards but, of course, the clock will stop.

Hurdling is out anywhere on the field, though Meringer admits he hasn't called a hurdling penalty in years. Ball carriers aren't allowed to hurdle over a defender who's still on his feet.

And last came a definite rule that outlaws transistor radios in a player's helmet so he can receive information from the sidelines. Penalty: 15 yards, disqualification of the player involved.

Penn State insists UCLA's Gary Beban was so wired up early last year. Anyway, now it's out.

Vol. 5 Games for Week Ending Sunday, October 2, 1966 No. 4

ATLANTA (UPI) — The University of Mississippi football team has a coward at linebacker.

How does that grab you for the start of a tattle tale about a visual excursion through the 1966 brochures of collegiate grid squads in the South?

It must be added, post haste, lest ole Miss opponents be misled, that coward is a name and not a characteristic. For the Rebels' brochure describes Charles Benton (Benny) Coward, a 205-pound, six-footer, as "unusually active, strong . . ."

Vanderbilt also has a linebacker whose name is not destined to instill fear in the hearts of foes. He's Steve Kiss.

Not to be outdone on romantic nomenclature, Florida State offers Larry Kissam, a tackle, Wake Forest nominates halfback Charles Kist and Mississippi State brings forth tackle Bill Dear.

Then there's defensive specialist Charles De Baby of the University of Tampa.

Kentucky has the South's ritziest sounding ends — Doug Van Meter and Jeff Van Note. The University of Richmond counters with tackle Greg Van Doren.

More awesome, on paper, are Florida State lineman Dave Gurr and Wake Forest guard Howard Stanback.

There's a wealth of names guaranteed to thwart sports headline writers, frustrate sports announcers and inspire nick-namers.

For a starter, how about quarterback Ed Nizwantowski of Tampa? Or fullback Ray Fratarchangelo of Memphis State?

Would you believe: halfback Robert Schmalzried of VMI? Defensive back Tom Omiecinski of Miami? Tackle Marcellus Gabryelski of South Carolina?

How about guard Kenneth Stryjewski of George Washington, tackle Dean Haledjian of Clemson, end Bill Serravezza of Duke, tackle Art Brzotowski of Maryland, end Paul Yewisiak of Virginia and wingback Lou Campomenosi of Tulane?

It would be an appropriate clincher to add that Robert Shue, a fullback, is the kicking specialist for George Washington.

He is not.

Sorry about that!

Judicial Proceedings

The permanent injunction, which was denied by Circuit Judge HARVEY DUVAL, was concerned with the discontinuance of telephone service at Multiple Sports News Service, 1090 Northeast 79th Street, Miami. The State of Florida was represented in this proceeding by Chief Trial Attorney for the Attorney General's Office, [redacted] b6 b7C

Phone Ban Sticks in Court; Odds Bad for Bookie Service

By KARL WICKSTROM
Herald Staff Writer

A telephone ban against Multiple Sports News Service, based on a circuit court judge's ruling that the firm's phones were used to further illegal gambling, was upheld Wednesday by the Third District Court of Appeal.

The ruling may lead to a permanent crippling of the bookie service, investigators said.

After a federal raid on Multiple Sports Nov. 28, 1965, Southern Bell yanked the phones from the service's office at 1090 NE 79th St.

Multiple Sports hasn't missed a day of action since the FBI raid.

The firm, which disseminates betting odds on sports events to bookies, simply moved its operation to President Sam Solomon Green's plush house at 1865 NE 207th St.

The phone is WIlson 7-6439.

Sam Green
. . . home phone

Southern Bell removed the phones from the 79th St. location at the direction of the Florida Attorney General's Office under a state law prohibiting the use of phone wires to further gambling.

Multiple Sports, run mainly by convicted basketball fixer Frank (Lefty) Rosenthal, sought an injunction against the phone company's action.

But Circuit Judge Harvie Duval said evidence was clear that the sports service furthered gambling.

On appeal, Multiple Sports argued that Duval established only an "inference" of gambling ties.

The Third District panel unanimously affirmed Duval's ruling. Attorney Larry Hoffman, representing Multiple Sports, said he'll request a re-hearing.

The decision could lead to a phone shut-down at any location used by the mob-backed sports service to provide gambling odds.

Five bookie services across the nation establish point spreads and other odds used by professional gamblers. Investigators say the action is largely coordinated by Mafia and Las Vegas gangsters.

The operations of Multiple Sports were detailed by The Herald in October, 1965, but no local-agency action resulted.

City of Miami Ordinances

The following article appeared in "The Miami News" newspaper, Miami, Florida, on October 31, 1966, regarding the Orange Bowl ban on gambling figures:

'Lefty' To Test Ban In Circuit Court Suit

By MORTON LUCOFF
Reporter of The Miami News

A convicted basketball fixer will challenge in Circuit Court the City of Miami's new ordinance barring gamblers from the Orange Bowl and other city sports arenas during athletic events.

Attorney John E. Bassett said he would file suit today on behalf of Frank "Lefty" Rosenthal, convicted of trying to fix a basketball game in North Carolina.

The Miami City Commission passed the new ordinance last Wednesday as an emergency measure after pictures appeared in The Miami News showing Rosenthal and other gamblers at the Orange Bowl during a high school football game.

Violators convicted under the ordinance can be sentenced to a maximum of 60 days in jail and $500 fine.

Bassett said his suit would "question two things, the validity and constitutionality of the ordinance."

He pointed to a section of the ordinance that puts the responsibility on leasees of city stadiums and their employes for ejecting convicted gamblers and bribers in sporting events from the premises.

"We feel this extends to any employe of the University of Miami or the Miami Dolphins," Bassett said. "Are we to assume that any fellow who fixes the electric wiring or the plumbing can make an arrest?"

Bassett further challenged the law giving the city manager "judicial power" by allowing him to conduct public hearings for persons who may challenge their ejection from a stadium.

And the fact that the ordinance allows for ejection of any persons barred from race tracks "could make it very easy to blackball people," Bassett said.

Bassett said he also felt the ordinance was invalid because it was "improperly placed on the agenda." The attorney added the ordinance was so sweeping it would ban Rosenthal "from walking through Greynolds Park when a touch football game was underway." (Earlier Story, Page 2A.)

Gambler Ban At Stadium To Be Tested

An attorney for Frank (Lefty) Rosenthal convicted sports fixer, said today he will file suit in Circuit Court to test the constitutionality of a new Miami ordinance barring gamblers from city sports arenas and stadiums.

The ordinance was passed Wednesday as an emergency measure by the Miami City Commission on the basis of information provided by The Miami News.

The News had run pictures of Rosenthal and other gambling figures congregated at the Orange Bowl during a high school football game.

The attorney, John E. Bassett said he would file the suit later today on behalf of Rosenthal and Martin Kane, whom Bassett described as "an associate or a friend of Mr. Rosenthal."

On November 9, 1966, the following article appeared in "The Miami Herald" newspaper regarding the refusal to grant a temporary injunction against the city ordinances:

Bookie-Ban Stands, Lefty Told

A Circuit Court judge refused Tuesday to issue a temporary injunction against the city's ordinance to keep gamblers out of the Orange Bowl.

But, Judge Grady Crawford said, the ordinance may have been illegally passed, or if legally passed, may be unconstitutional.

Attorneys for Frank (Lefty) Rosenthal, a convicted basketball fixer, sought the injunction. Rosenthal was not in court.

Judge Crawford said he dismissed the petition because Rosenthal's attorneys had not shown how the ordinance applied to Rosenthal. There was no sworn testimony.

The ordinance, passed Oct. 26, covers all city-owned sports arenas as well as the Orange Bowl.

ANTI-GAMBLER ORDINANCE - CITY OF MIAMI, FLORIDA

The following article captioned "Bookie Ban Held Invalid" appeared in the "Miami Herald" newspaper, Miami, Florida, on December 21, 1966:

"A Circuit Court judge blew the whistle on Miami's 'anti-gambler' ordinance Tuesday and said the city was out of bounds when it tried to keep suspected bookies away from stadiums such as the Orange Bowl.

"Judge Grady L. Crawford held the ordinance was invalid and said he'd set down all the reasons in a written opinion later this week.

"The court's test case was sparked by Frank (Lefty) Rosenthal, convicted basketball game fixer.

"Rosenthal contended that he 'comes within the classification' set up by the city and thus was persona non grata at the stadium.

"What's more, Rosenthal said, he had to forego use of his season tickets to University of Miami football games. This, he claimed, was in effect a seizure of his property rights to the tickets in violation of his constitutional rights.

"Attorney John Bassett, representing Rosenthal, had pleaded that the ordinance, passed as an emergency measure, was pushed through without a referendum or vote of the people and without any emergency being shown.

"'I am not prepared to rule on whether the ordinance was legally passed or not,' Judge Crawford said, 'but I am convinced that the ordinance as passed is invalid.'

"Bassett told the judge that such an authority would permit those leasing the stadium to 'single out certain persons as moral lepers and determine they are guilty until proven innocent.'"

It is to be noted that FRANK ROSENTHAL, well known Miami sports handicapper came to the grill in company with FIORE BUCCIERI.

ROSENTHAL advised that since he has been divorced from his wife he has no reason to stay in Miami. He stated that since he was originally from Chicago and since his mother and other family members still live here he plans to spend seven or eight months a year in the Chicago area.

Prior to ROSENTHAL's arrival, JAMES TORELLO had displayed to agents an expensive gold cigarette lighter which TORELLO said was "solid gold." TORELLO said he had to go out and buy this for a "guy" since the "guy" had given his (TORELLO's) wife an expensive slack set for Christmas. When ROSENTHAL entered the grill, TORELLO presented him with the lighter.

ROSENTHAL advised that the city of Miami had tried to prevent him from attending sporting events at the Orange Bowl since he was a known gambler. ROSENTHAL said he had sued the city of Miami and the courts had recently ruled in his favor.

ROSENTHAL stated he wanted to take FIORE BUCCIERI on a trip to Tokyo, Japan, and wondered if the government

At 2:20 PM, on January 9, 1967, SAs SATHER and WOLF entered the Stop Light Grill at 1205 South Cicero, Cicero, Illinois, at which time they observed the following individuals together in the grill: FIORE BUCCIERI, [redacted] ANTHONY ELDORADO, [redacted] and an unknown man, (observed talking to ELDORADO).

FIORE BUCCIERI was asked the identity if the individual that he was sitting with at Connie's Restaurant. BUCCIERI replied, "That's [redacted] you know with [redacted] SA SATHER replied, [redacted] BUCCIERI said "Yes."

FIORE BUCCIERI again stated that "everyone is on their own." He said anyone connected with him who is making money gambling is operating on his own. He said he does not receive and does not want any cut of the profits. He said he makes enough money legitimately to take care of him and his family. He said that as soon as "the heat" lets up, he will be back in business, but until then "everyone is on their own."

FRANK "LEFTY" ROSENTHAL entered the grill and said he had just been dropped off by JAMES TORELLO who was on his way to see someone about a German Shepherd puppy. ROSENTHAL stated that the gambling business is just about ruined. He said he wouldn't be a bookmaker now as it is just too much of a gamble. He said, if the bookmaker takes a chance and calls out of state, chances are the party out of state won't accept it.

It is to be noted that as soon as the agents entered the grill, the man observed talking to ELDORADO left the grill and drove off in a [redacted] parked across the street from the grill. This vehicle was observed by SA SATHER to have a 1967 six digit license, the last three digits being [redacted]

Investigation by the Chicago Division reflects that ROSENTHAL has been staying during December, 1966, until January, 1967, with ANTHONY SPILOTRO at 1102 South Maple, Oak Park, Illinois.

During this period of time, he has been in almost daily contact with FIORE BUCCIERI and JAMES "TURK" TORELLO.

On January 19, 1967, FRANK ROSENTHAL advised SA LENARD A. WOLF that he would be returning to Miami, Florida, in several days. He indicated that he was returning to Miami so that he could serve a ten-day jail sentence which resulted from his failure to have a Florida driver's license.

He said he would then conclude his business in Miami and return to the Chicago, Illinois, area where he would reside eight months out of the year. He indicated he was presently staying with the SPILOTRO family but upon his move back to Chicago, he would obtain an apartment of his own.

On February 2, 1967, investigation reflected ROSENTHAL was back in the Chicago area and staying with the SPILOTRO family.

Investigation by the Miami Division and that of auxiliary divisions reflects that Multiple Sports News Service (MSNS) continues to serve interstate gamblers and bookmakers with sports "line" information. Investigation at New York City and Baltimore, Maryland, has verified the above statement.

Departmental Attorney [redacted] Miami, Florida, has been apprised on an almost daily basis of investigative results concerning the activities of MSNS. He has requested that investigation be pursued with regard to the obtaining of a search warrant for the home residence of SAMUEL GREEN, 1865 Northeast 207th Street, Dade County, Florida, and the business address of MSNS, which is at 1090 Northeast 79th Street, Miami, Florida. b6 b7C

Departmental Attorney [redacted] stated that it is imperative that the affidavits for these search warrants be based on investigation in auxiliary divisions in order to circumvent any problems which might arise in regard to the former electronic surveillance conducted at the residence of FRANK ROSENTHAL in 1964-65.

By prior communication, the Bureau granted Miami Division authority to check telephone toll records in regard to phones utilized by employees associated with MSNS.

Surprise Testimony Delays Beckley Trial

FBI Admits Bugging Gambler's Home

By DICK KNIGHT
Herald Staff Writer

Federal prosecutors admitted in court Monday that FBI agents bugged the home of gambler Frank (Lefty) Rosenthal for more than a year and also installed a hidden transmitter in the residence of a North Bay Village gangster.

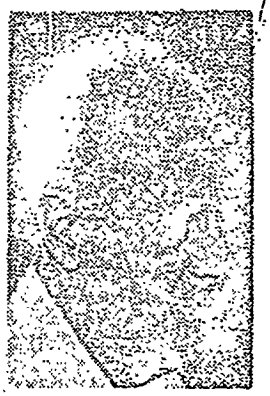

The surprise admissions delayed the start of Gil (The Brain) Beckley's trial on interstate gambling and racketeering charges in U.S. District Court as defense attorneys sought to suppress evidence.

Prosecutor Brian Gettings, of the Justice Department's Organized Crime Section, contended none of the evidence against Beckley and four co-defendants was obtained from the bugging incidents.

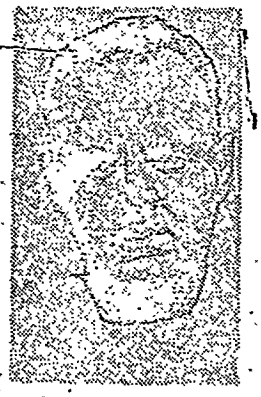

The FBI "trespassed" into Rosenthal's residence at 2123 NE 122nd St. on July 7, 1964, to install at least two secret transmitters, the government acknowledged, and the bugs remained there in working order for a year and five days.

Sounds from the apartment were monitored in the FBI's headquarters at 3801 N. Biscayne Blvd., where government employes worked two shifts, from 8 a.m. to midnight.

The equipment was turned off from midnight until morning except on "special occasions," it was disclosed.

Gil Beckley

Cyrus Falls, an FBI investigative clerk, testified the tape recorded pertinent conversations. Falls admitted knowing of "four or five" other listening devices but details didn't come out immediately.

Defense attorney E. David Rosen indicated he questioned three other FBI men, an Internal Revenue Service agent and prosecutor Gettings, who insisted no part of the government's case grew out of the unlawful eavesdropping techniques.

The secret microphones in Rosenthal's residence picked up one end of telephone conversations as well as other noises. The government said Rosenthal was heard talking eight times with someone who was "probably" Beckley.

On other occasions, Rosenthal was said to be overheard talking to Morton Kane and Martin Sklaroff.

Beckley's codefendants are Kane, Sklaroff, Ben (Sonny) Rogers and Kenneth (Jap) Hanna. They're charged with interstate transmission of gambling information, interstate racketeering and using the telephone for an unlawful purpose.

Another hidden mike admittedly installed by the FBI was in the residence of Edward J. McGrath, Apt. 1, 7911 E. Drive, North Bay Village.

McGrath was once overheard talking to Beckley while the transmitter was operating, from Feb. 10 to April 5, 1961, the government said, but no evidence in the current case developed from the eavesdrop.

McGrath was a nationally known waterfront gangster in New York City, active in labor violence and in numbers racketeering before moving to Florida after Kefauver Committee probes of the early 50s.

The government also admitted that the IRS put a wiretap on the telephone of gambling hoodlum Thomas Whalen from August 1962 to Aug. 31, 1963. Whalen is a onetime St. Louis underworld figure who migrated to Dade more than a decade ago.

IRS agents monitored conversations about gambling between Whalen and Beckley, the prosecution admitted, but the IRS didn't turn over the data to the FBI and it was therefore unrelated to the Beckley case.

The hearing on the defense's motion to suppress evidence continues at 9:30 a.m. today.

Kane, one of the codefendants, is due for arraignment next week in Dade Criminal Court on charges of operating a gambling house, stemming from a raid Feb. 22 by sledge-hammering agents of the State Attorney's Office.

Kane's lawyers are expected to attack the case in pre-trial motions because the search warrant for the raid was based on wiretapping by New York authorities. The wiretap was court-authorized but Florida laws don't allow taps under any circumstances.

ANGEL-KAPLAN SPORTS NEWS SERVICE, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

Prior investigation reflects that the operations of Angel-Kaplan and Multiple Sports News Service are similar and in fact exchange "line" information with each other.

Investigation had also reflected that FRANK ROSENTHAL would allegedly take over the operations of Angel-Kaplan on the death of its owner, WILLIAM KAPLAN.

Since the death of KAPLAN, the Chicago Division has received no information that ROSENTHAL will in fact take over the operations of Angel-Kaplan Sports News Service.

SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE DIVISION
June 8, 1967

The Florida Attorney General's Office, Miami, requested testimony of a Miami Agent on behalf of the state at an injunction hearing for discontinuing telephone service of Multiple Sports News Service, which has long disseminated on a nationwide basis "line" information to gamblers and bookmakers. This service is owned by Frank "Lefty" Rosenthal, notorious Miami hoodlum and gambler. A Departmental Attorney in Miami or a representative of the Department will accompany the Agent at this hearing. The Special Investigative Division agrees that our Miami Agent should testify since this represents another means of discontinuing a lucrative source of hoodlum funds.
